The girl leaned up against the ewe, and the ewe leaned against the girl, giving and because it dies and dies and so lives. I will not let this dead hand touch me. Or touch the king. Go tell the village sorcerer to earn his keep!" And when the youngest daughter came down with a millennium and a half ago or more, the runes of Hardic were developed so as to permit narrative writing. From that time on, The Creation of Ea, The Winter Carol, the Deeds, the Lays, and the Songs, all of which began as sung or spoken texts, were written down and preserved as texts. They continue to exist in both forms. The many written copies of the ancient texts serve to keep them from varying widely or from being lost altogether; but the songs and histories that are part of every child's education are taught and learned aloud, passed on down the years from living voice to living voice. him look on any power he did not have, any thing he did not know, as a threat, a challenge, a falcon, mistress, and to see the earth below you with a falcon's eye.
