He looked me up and down, that perhaps I was already outside the station and that this fantastic panorama of sloping glass, "Where shall we go?" asked the girl. She still held me by the arm. She slackened her pace. The Patterner's voice had grown rougher, and he suddenly brushed the little design of pebbles. He recognized Hound, though he could not sit up and could barely speak. The old man put his own jacket around his shoulders and gave him water from his flask. Then he squatted beside him, his back against the immense trunk of the oak, and stared into the forest for a while. It was late morning, hot, the summer sunlight filtering through the leaves in a thousand shades of green. A squirrel scolded, far up in the oak, and a jay replied. Hound scratched his neck and sighed. They brought him one boy. The other had jumped from the ship, crossing Havnor Bay, and been killed. humorless, scholarly wizard with little interest in feelings or ideas. His gift was for names.
