Then Dragonfly came back to herself and called to Ivory and ran down the hill to meet him. "I will go," she said. The sense of huge strength was draining out of her. She turned her head a little and looked down. Dragonfly stopped too. She said after a moment, "I'm sorry. But I feel like - I feel like you betrayed me." King Maharion sought peace and never found it. While Erreth-Akbe was in Karego-At (which may have been a period of years), the depredations of the dragons increased. The Inward Isles were troubled by refugees fleeing the western lands and by interruptions to shipping and trade, since the dragons had taken to setting fire to boats that went west of Hosk, and harried ships even in the Inmost Sea. Then they sent him away to live at the stables of the great farm, for he had a hand with animals, and was quieter when he was with the horses. But he quarreled with a stable boy, and turned the poor lad into a lump of dung. When the wizards had got the stable boy back into his own shape, they tied up the child again, and gagged his mouth, and put him on a ship for Roke. They thought maybe the Masters there could tame him." She interrupted. "I thought you were from Roke." visit the Court of the King, I can take you there.
