Men were coming through the gardens and up the path from the Great House, all the mages, many of the students. Leading them was Thorion the Summoner, tall in his grey cloak, carrying his tall staff of bone-white wood, about which a faint gleam of werelight hovered..He followed him down one of the principal streets and from it into a district of small houses, the old weavers' quarter. They grew flax on Pody, and there were stone retting houses, now mostly unused, and looms to be seen by the windows of some of the houses. In a little square where there was shade from the hot sun four or five women sat spinning by a well. Children played nearby, listless with the heat, scrawny, staring without much interest at the strangers. Tern had walked there unhesitating, as if he knew where he was going. Now he stopped and greeted the women..He had turned up on Dulse's doorstep a few years ago. Well, no, twenty years ago it must be, or twenty-five. A while ago now. He had been truly a boy then, long-legged, rough-haired, soft-faced, with a set mouth and clear eyes. "What do you want?" the wizard had asked, knowing what he wanted, what they all wanted, and keeping his eyes from those clear eyes. He was a good teacher, the best on Gont, he knew that. But he was tired of teaching, and didn't want another prentice underfoot, and sensed danger.."A col," I answered. I lifted my cup, as if to examine it. This milk had no smell. I did not."Have you ever kept goats?" Dulse asked, in the same soft, polite voice..The curer checked the girths, eased a strap, and got up in the saddle, not expertly, but the hinny made no objection. She turned her long, creamy-white nose and beautiful eyes to look at her rider. He smiled. Gift had never seen him smile.."What's that all about?" Golden said to his wife, a rhetorical question. She looked at him and said nothing, a non-rhetorical answer..School, and Halkel discouraged wizards from teaching women anything at all. Great spells are made wholly in the Old Speech, and are understood as they are spoken..but purposeful, down one of the tracks, and he went with her, a hand on her hip when the way was."I just sort of found out," said the boy, evidently not sure if his father approved..for the Hardic language. This writing does not affect reality any more than any writing does; that.lucky as an Irian'. The masters and many tenants of the domain added its name to their own.."Because there are more of us! Gather twenty or thirty people of power in a room, they'll each seek to have their way. And you put men who've always had their way together with women who've had theirs, and they'll resent one another. And then, too, there are some true and real divisions among us, Medra. They must be settled, and they can't be settled easily. Though a little goodwill would go a long way.."and dark eyes under dark brows, eyes that held his, held him, brought the truth out of his mouth..At that, the witch stopped walking. She hissed like a cat. "Tell anyone?".years before?.House. And causes ten times the quarrels. I wish I could get away from it! I wish I could just."But you can't force him to drink," I continued patiently.."Where they come from, I don't know.
