Yet as Dory spoke he saw what the girl saw: a long hill going down into darkness, and across it, on the edge of twilight, a low wall of stones. And as he looked he thought he saw a woman walking along beside the wall, very thin, insubstantial, bone, shadow. But she was not the dying woman in the bed. She was Anieb. quickly had left little time for provisioning the ships. They overran the towns along the west. "Off you go, then," she said, "and leave us to settle this matter of the Rule." Her frown was as. could and burning what they left. Then the great fleet turned west, heading for the one harbor of. The Doorkeeper came back and said, "Come, Irian, and meet the Masters of Roke." Her heart began to go at a carthorse gallop. She followed him through the maze of corridors to a dark-walled room with a row of high pointed windows. A group of men stood there, and every one of them turned to look at her as she came into the room. "You're welcome," she said, and hoisted whatever it was into a massive pottery bowl, and wiped her. "Tell us who you are," the white-haired man said, courteously enough, but without greeting or. For Golden looked on the Art Magic with genuine humility as something quite beyond him -- not a mere toy, such as music or tale-telling, but a practical business, which his business could never quite equal. And he was, though he wouldn't have put it that way, afraid of wizards. A bit contemptuous of sorcerers, with their sleights and illusions and gibble-gabble, but afraid of wizards. "Thought you might. As for King Losen," Hound said, "who knows." He sniffed and sighed. "If I was. brave. Or brave, they said around the tavern table, in the wrong way, or the wrong place, d'you.
